ELECTRIC POWER.

Every plumber, carpenter and hardware merchant ought to have a small electric motor, say one-half horse power.

You will be surprised at the kind and amount of work that can be done with a motor of this size, such as sharpening skates, scythes and all kinds of cutlery, polishing and grinding metals, splitting and cutting up stock for windows and door screens, etc.

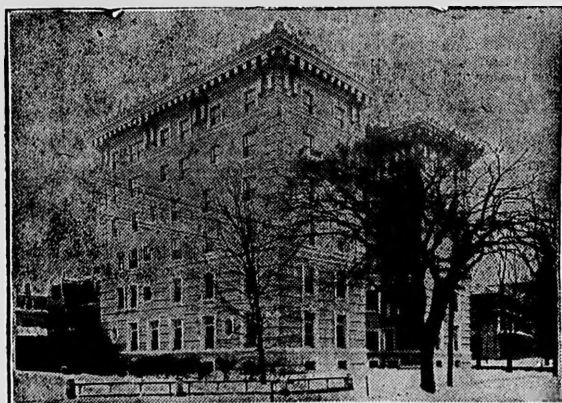

The motors are cheap and the cost of operation is very small. Let us help you in any matter pertaining to power.

There are many men in the suburbs of Boston whose time during banking hours is fully occupied, either in their own town or in the city, and there are many women who come to Boston infrequently, but who would find it greatly to their advantage to have a bank account with the Old Colony Trust Company.

To meet these conditions we have adopted a system of banking by mail. Accounts may be opened and deposits made by mail, and these deposits will be acknowledged on the day of their receipt. It is not necessary to send the pass book with deposits, or to be balanced, as statements showing the condition of the account are mailed on the first of each month with the cancelled checks.

A pamphlet illustrating and describing the Temple Place office in the shopping district is of particular interest to women, and will be mailed on request.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Homer Street Tracks to Remain.

Hearings on Telephone Poles Bring Out Interesting Facts About Edison Plans.

The regular meeting of the board of aldermen was held on Monday evening.

President Saltonstall in the chair and Aldermen Baker, Bishop, Bosson, Bowen, Brown, Cabot, Carter, Dennison, Doherty, Ellis, Ensign, Hunt, Palmer, Riley, Stone, Underwood, Webster, Weston and White being present.

COMMUNICATIONS

FROM THE MAYOR.

Recommending that City Clerk be authorized to tender award made on account of widening Washington street to estate of Luther Farwell. Received.

Recommending transfer of balance of $223.78 in Ash street School House account to School Loan Sinking Fund. Received.

HEARINGS.

Hearings were announced upon the following petitions of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co.:

Attachments on Elm road, ward 2
Attachments on Ware road, ward 4
Attachments on Fair Oaks ave., ward 2

Attachment on Sumner st., ward 6.
And on the following petitions of the N. & W. Gas Light Co.

Pole location on Cheswick road, ward 4
Pole locations, Needham st., ward 5
Pole locations Oak st., ward 5

Pole locations, Fuller st., ward 5
Attachments, Walnut st., ward 5.

No one appeared and these hearings were severally declared closed.

At the hearing on petition of N. & W. Gas Light Co. for pole locations on Richardson st., Mr. A. O. Babbitt said he owned the house for which electric lighting was desired. He urged the necessity of giving his property this convenience and stated that a proposed route from a back street would necessitate much trespassing on his land when new pole were required.

Capt. F. L. Oakes, the tenant in Mr. Babbitt's house also spoke in favor of the petition.

A remonstrance from Mrs. C. I. Jewett by Hon. A. L. Harwood her attorney was read and the hearing closed.

The hearings on the following petitions of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. for attachments on Cedar st., for pole locations on Commonwealth ave., Ward st., Rice st., Hammond st., Cedar st., Commonwealth ave and Grafton St., were combined.

Mr. H. S. Allen for the Co. said that these petitions were presented for the reason that the Electric Light Co. contemplated placing a high tension wire on the poles of the St. Ry. Co. in Commonwealth av. where the telephone wires were now located. Under the requirements of the Underwriters Association, it would then be necessary to remove the low tension wires of the telephone company to some other location. The district had been carefully examined and the petitions covered what the Inspector of Wires, and the Electric Light and Telephone representatives had agreed were the most feasible routes. The locations desired were solely for the purpose of accommodating the Electric Company and to reach the present subscribers of the telephone company.

Supt. W. E. Holmes of the N. & W. Gas Light Co. said that in consequence of the purchase of this Company by the Edison Company, it was proposed to dismantle the Watertown plant and supply Newton from the South Boston station. This would require a feed wire through Boston and Brookline to the transformer station already constructed on Homer st. The locations in Boston and Brookline to the Newton line had been granted. The Company proposed to rebuild the present poles on Commonwealth av and to make the Homer st. station a touching point in a loop which would continue through Fuller st., Chestnut st., Oak st., Needham st and thence through Needham and Dedham back to Boston.

Mr. Geo. N. Goddard of Ward st. for himself and neighbors opposed the petitions, saying it was immaterial which of these companies had the locations but it was time to stop the disfigurement of our streets with these unsightly poles. We come out here from the city for the beauty and comfort which we have and do not wish to look at these masts in our streets. Unless absolutely necessary these petitions ought not to be granted.

Mr. T. W. Proctor said he lived on Hammond st. between Commonwealth av and Ward st. and his was the only house on that portion of the street.

On the east side of the street there is a line of poles now, and he strenuously objected to another line on his side of the street or to the removal of the present line to the west side. He would not object to additional wires on the present line of poles.

Mr. M. H. Gulesian objected to the proposed poles on Commonwealth av between South st and Waban Hill road, and Mr. Allen stated that this route had been covered by a right of way through Waban Hill road and private property and the petition was a mistake on the part of the stenographer.

Mr. E. L. Rugg of Rice st said they had the finest set of maples in the city on that street and while the poles were to be located on the opposite side he strongly objected to disfiguring the street. With underground construction at either end of Rice st he believed a conduit should be used rather than poles.

Mr. F. H. Ratcliffe, said he lived on the maple side of Rice street and objected to the proposed disfigurement when conduits should be built.

Mr. J. E. Huntress living at corner of Rice and Sumner sts said they had built in that place for homes and it was too bad to put up poles in front of our houses.

Mr. Geo. B. Warren of Ward st said that as Company had agreed to construct a certain amount of underground each year why not cover this section under that agreement.

Dr. W. P. Cooke of Sumner st said Rice st was but 24 feet wide and the land on one side rises abruptly, thus making a pole line more disfiguring than on a level street. The Company evidently wishes to save their money and deface our homes.

Dr. A. H. Stoddard owning land both sides of Rice st also protested earnestly against poles and inquired as to cost of underground. Mr. Allen in reply said that it was impossible to give definite figures as the nature of the soil varied in different localities but it amounted to a substantial sum. Dr. Stoddard believed however that Company ought to do it in Rice st.

A letter of remonstrance was then read from Mr. W. R. Holt of Rice st.

Dana Estes Jr of Waban Hill road said it would be more reasonable to require the Electric Company to put its wires underground. The Telephone Company cannot afford underground for its scattered subscribers, but the Electric Company is to supply the entire city and it would be better to have them construct the underground. He inquired as to reaching subscribers on Waban Hill and when Mr. Allen stated that arrangements had been made to reach them, Mr. Estes questioned the methods, as the pole rights recently given the Electric Company restricted the use to lighting wires only.

A letter of protest to poles on Cedar st was read from Mr. H. A. Ely.

Mr. Allen in reply to questions said that the company proposed to use poles about 25 feet above the ground with the least objectionable construction possible. Solely for local distribution purposes. On Needham Oak and Chestnut sts another line of poles would be used by the Telephone company.

Mr. C. W. Eaton said this matter was to accommodate the Electric Company and he objected to accommodating the citizens of Newton for that purpose. Let them bury their wires.

The hearings closed at 9 o'clock. At the hearing on removal of tree from Washington st near Prospect st. Dr. N. Emmons Paine spoke emphatically in favor and the hearing closed.

At the hearing upon taking land for drainage purposes from Walnut st to Omar Terrace, Mr. Amos C. Judkins appeared in remonstrance. Mr. J. P. Kustis said he had rights of way in the land owned by Mr. Judkins and had maintained a plank walk which was very much used. He did not wish his walk spoiled.

The hearing was then closed. There was no one present at the hearing upon taking land for sewer in Chestnut Hill road and it was declared closed.

The recommendation of the Committee on Public Works of leave to withdraw on petitions for sewer in Stearns st was accepted.

RECESS.

From 9:20 to 9:35 o'clock for meeting of Finance Committee, and upon reassembling the order for removal of tracks upon Homer st was taken up.

HOMER ST. TRACKS.

Alderman Webster. Since our last meeting I have talked with some people relative to the position of the First church in this matter. They state that there is no disturbance now from the cars at the church services altho there may be some during the summer months. They are satisfied to allow the tracks to remain. The church is evidently divided on the proposition. The evidence in favor of removing tracks is limited to those who drive or use autos. Last Sunday in 9 minutes on Commonwealth ave I counted 17 autos each going at the speed limit, and think of the danger to school children attempting to cross this avenue to reach the cars. If the churches of Newton are to be protected from the noise of cars, the tracks should come up on Walnut at as the noise at the Newtonville Methodist church is most annoying. The walk from Tarleton road to Commonwealth wealth avenue is 1300 feet and quite an undertaking. The Railway Company is still absolutely neutral in this matter. The main objection however is the expense. Our tax rate is high, our valuations are higher and cannot again be raised and the city should not be forced to this expense.

Alderman White. I have been in favor of removing these tracks but from the estimates submitted it is

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

The bill intended to encourage men in growing old, or the bill known as a measure to establish a system of old age pensions in Massachusetts, was not even allowed to grow old itself, for it was rejected last week by the House. The bill provided that any male citizen of the State sixty-five years of age who has paid a poll tax twenty-five years who has not within five years been convicted of felony, and who has sustained a good moral character and has not been addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors, shall be entitled to receive Two Dollars a week. Probably one reason that defeated this measure was the exceptions found in the bill. A majority in the legislature doubtless thought that a man who had reached the age of sixty-five and had not paid a poll tax for twenty-five years and who had been addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors, needed a pension more than the class entitled to one under the bill. There are three general classes of matters that come to the legislature for consideration, and this bill seemed to belong to the third class, therefore it is just as well that it fell by the wayside. Two dollars per week would hardly do more than to delay the inevitable. A man might as well take Dr. Osler's remedy and done with it. Mr. Cole of Andover said that one of the problems before this strenuous nation was, what shall be done with the old men. That seems hardly a problem with Dr. Osler and a certain well known Reaper abroad in the land.

We are reminded in the Scriptures that one shall chase a thousand, and two shall put ten thousand to flight. That is about the standard of bravery established by the House of Representatives last week. The campaign contribution bill was up and Luce of Somerville, who is the sponsor of the bill, was absent when the ayes were called on the measure. One would have thought that every other person in favor of the bill was absent with Mr. Luce, for there was not enough support given to the bill to furnish a decent burial; but when the noes had a chance, the roof slipped out of plumb a trifle; then Luce arrived and the shouters went into their boots while the white feather waved at about every desk. What Mr. Luce could do with a thousand men, may have a degree of uncertainty about it, but certainly he has obtained considerable control of pretty near two hundred and forty, for on the standing vote only forty-one mastered up the courage to stand up against the pure vote champion, and if a roll call had been demanded, there is some doubt about there having been enough recorded against the measure to have told the story. Probably there are several men who could explain the reason of this sudden turn.

There are some members of the House who, if they should pause in the midst of their speeches, would ascertain about how much influence they have with the House, and how much good their remarks were doing. Less than a score of members command the attention of the body, and less than a dozen evidently absorb the thoughts of those who listen. There are few factories in the State where a greater din is created by moving machinery than is manifest in the House when certain members are talking, and when the gavel has to be lifted two and three times to restore order, these members seem to be unmindful of the fact that they are the cause for the disturbance. There are several men in each division who can secure the inattention of the House to a remarkable degree every time they are recognized by the Chair, and they have never yet tumbled to the situation that as soon as they sit down the noise ceases.

The Committee on Probate and Chancery reported a bill in the Senate the other day, which, if enacted into law will prevent the giving of any entertainment for amusement, upon the Lord's Day, of whatever nature. Very likely some modification of the bill will be made regarding what may be called legitimate entertainment, but it should be remembered that this bill is the result of the disgraceful performances that have defied all sense of decency in Boston for a long time, and Boston papers that are crying out against the measure, because it would prevent a Chickering Hall Concert, should bear in mind that the "sacred" concert in such theatres as the Lyceum, Palace, and others, that are made possible because these papers advertise them, are responsible for this stringent legislation.

The Committee on Roads and Bridges has reported a bill to regulate the speed of automobiles and now, if the bill should become a law, we shall see how the automobile will crawl over the highways. There never was a law put upon the statute books that the average automobilist cared a rap for, except the law which made imprisonment possible, and even that is feared but little, for it does not make imprisonment probable, only possible. This proposed law emphasizes the fact that it is to regulate the speed of automobiles so as to provide for a series of fines for over speeding, and it indirectly admits that the law regulating speed is to be violated with impunity. Without doubt there is not a law in the statute that is invariably disregarded as the law which is supposed to regulate the speed of automobiles, and it is disregarded by the very class that pretend to be law-abiding people.

Dating from last Saturday, the brown-tail moths are officially a nuisance in Boston. To be sure, they have been so considered by most people who dwell in the brown-tail district, for some time, but it was not until last Saturday that the Boston Board of Health branded the insect with the official hot iron of the city. Any citizen can hereafter proceed to put to death any brown-tail moth without a bench warrant, and without fearing arrest for cruelty to insects. From April 1st, 1905, the brown-tail moth is an outlaw within the boundaries of the city of Boston, although it must be admitted that there are numerous other outlaws in the city that the Board of Health edict does not affect.

President Dana was very considerate of Senator Taylor the other day, and indirectly, of the rest of the Democratic Senators from Boston, for when Mr. Taylor had been defeated on the Police Listing bill, President Dana allowed the Senator to move to adjourn the Senate, and the motion prevailed. It was, therefore, demonstrated that the Boston Democrats could carry something in the Senate, even if it is only a motion to adjourn.

It is intimated that Speaker Frothingham will not be a candidate for re-election next winter; cheer up, it may not be true. The pretty little fight that is to succeed the disappearance of Mr. Frothingham from the State House is likely to be deferred at least a year.

SPILED MILK.

The Newton boulevard at the corner of Commonwealth and Islington roads Auburndale, was the scene of a crash early Sunday morning, between an outward bound electric car and a milk wagon driven by Peter Johnson of 73 Derby street, West Newton.

Johnson was thrown out, the horse ran away and the wagon and its contents were scattered over the boulevard. Johnson sustained a number of severe cuts and bruises and was taken to his home.

BASE BALL.

A meeting was held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last week and a baseball league was formed, composed of the Nonantams, the Upper Falls, West Newtons and the N. Y. M. C. A. team. These officers were elected: President, Thomas M. Spelman; vice-president, Mr. La Rose; secretary, Thomas J. Lyons; treasurer, William T. Halliday; committee, J. Dunne, T. J. Lyons, Mr. La Rose, C. C. Cotting, J. P. Ryan, William T. Halliday and J. M. Spelman.

It is the intention of the league to play games on holidays, beginning April 19 and lasting through the year each team meeting the others three times.

The four available fields are the Upper Falls field, the old N. A. A. field on Cedar street, the West Newton Common and Cabot Park. A meeting will be held this week to complete the schedule.

Street Railway Notes

On April 4th, 1905, the Boston & Worcester St. Ry. Co. put into effect a re-adjustment of its fares and collections on the Main Line between Boston and Worcester and on the So Framingham, Marlboro and Hudson Division. The round trip fare between Boston and Worcester is ninety cents. The one way fare is fifty cents. Through fare between South Framingham and Hudson is twenty cents. This re-adjustment does not in any way affect the local fare and applies only to through passengers. Passengers between Hudson and Marlboro and Worcester will receive from the Conductor upon request at payment of fare, transfers which will be accepted by connecting car at White's Corner, which will make the same rate of fare as at the present time. The fare between Framingham, Centre and Whites' Corner on the South Framingham, Marlboro and Hudson cars is five cents so as to conform with the fare on the Boston & Worcester cars. The Company is about to make large expenditures during the present year including double tracking from Framingham to White's Corner, additional equipment and new signals. With these improvements and the new sub-stations, the travelling public will receive additional accommodations, thereby having the best street railway service in New England.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

Questions on legal matters will be answered in this column and names of persons sending queries will be considered strictly confidential. Communications should be addressed to Arthur W. Blake, more, 91 State St., Boston.

1. Quære:—Is it true that with the new laws governing taxes on incomes, etc. the holder of a mortgage becomes liable for a part of the taxes on the mortgaged property and for how large a part? When was the law passed? If A the holder of a mortgage upon B's property is liable, can he avoid his share of the taxes? Has B, any way of obtaining A's share of taxes paid by B during the previous years?

2. Would it be possible for A. to transfer his interest in the property to X without B's knowledge or consent? S. E. N.

Answer: 1. The statute provides that the mortgagee's interest in real estate shall be assessed as real estate, and that the amount of this interest is the amount of the mortgage, provided that does not exceed the value of the land and buildings upon it. If the amount of the mortgage is greater than the value of the property the excess is taxable to the mortgagee as personal property. The interest payable under a mortgage is not included in the tax on incomes, as it was made exempt in 1891. If the mortgagee does not provide who shall pay the taxes then it would seem they should be paid as assessed as above, although, as the court has said, the tax is a tax upon the land, and either the mortgagee or mortgagor should pay the whole tax if necessary to protect his interest. If the mortgagor pays the taxes which the mortgagee should pay, the amount of tax so paid may be deducted from the amount due on the mortgage.

2. The mortgagee may assign his interest in the mortgage and mortgage note at any time without the consent or knowledge of the mortgagor.

Quære:—I gave directions to have a piazza built on my wife's house where we live. The bill was first sent to me and I paid part of it, but later the carpenter discovered that my wife owned the house and now proposes to sue her. I did not act for her or at her request, and meant to pay for the job myself as my share of the living expenses. The work was very improperly done, and we desire to contest a part of the bill. Is my wife liable? L. M. R.

Answer:—It has been held in a case presenting facts very similar to this that the wife was liable. It turns upon the view of the facts which the jury take. The fact that the carpenter sent the bill to and received part payment from you is evidence that he intended to look to you, but the fact that the work was done on your wife's house is evidence which would warrant the finding that you acted as agent for your wife. If the jury takes that view then the well known principle of law will apply, that a seller who deals with an agent as principal may upon discovering the agency proceed against either the agent or the real principal as he deems best.

But if the jury believes that you intended to make a gift to your wife of this piazza, and that you were not acting as her agent then she is not liable.

Hick's Almanac for 1905 can be obtained at the GRAPHIC Office for 25 cents a copy, and is free to old and new subscribers who pay their subscriptions in advance. Hick's almanac is one of the most remarkable productions of the new century. He predicted the earthquake last spring within 96 hours and his weather predictions are simply astounding in their accuracy. tf

Y. M. C. A.

Three important dates ought to be kept in mind by members and friends of the Y. M. C. A. On April 10th occurs the concert given by the Y. M. C. A. Orchestra assisted by the Boys Glee Club. The orchestra is now composed of about 20 musicians and under Mr. Atwood's direction is doing fine work. The Glee Club may be expected to sing well as usual. On April 15th Saturday occurs the annual Gynnasium Exhibition in which all classes are expected to take part. This will be of great interest as the public will have an opportunity to see the work of all grades at the same time. On a later date in April the Juniors will give a minstrel show which promises to be a great success.

To all of these classes, the Graphic offers a magnificent opportunity to indulge their fancy, without cost and with the utmost of comfort.

A Serious Accident.

The most serious accident which
has occurred in Newton for years,
took place Wednesday night at 6:35
o'clock, when two cars of the Boston Elevated Company came together in a rear end collision at the junction of Washington and Park streets.

For some time it has been the custom, when cars from Boston are late,
for the starter to run the inward
bound car from Nonantum square until it meets the outward bound car, when
the regular conductor and motorman
take the Boston bound car and the starter the Newton car. It seems that this was the case Wednesday night
when the starter, George Ducette,
was running the Newton car towards Nonantum square, and stopped to allow a passenger to alight. A second car in charge of conductor Andrew Erickson and Motorman Martin Walsh
was following close, and when Ducette
stopped the forward car, Walsh was unable to bring his car to a standstill and crashed into the car ahead with considerable force. The rear vestibule of the first car was completely demolished and the glass
was broken in the windows of both cars. The impact hurled the passengers of both cars to the floor and
many were cut by the flying glass.

William Gero, 19 years of age, a clerk employed by John T. Burns, the real estate agent was the most severely injured, being cut about the face and neck and received concussion of the brain. He was unconscious and was promptly removed to his home 54 Charlesbank road. Miss Annie Lush a domestic employed by Mr. W. B.
Trowbridge of Hunnewell terrace,
was about to step from the forward car when the accident took place. She was thrown violently to the ground
and received several cuts about the face and a broken elbow. Other persons reported cut and bruised were
the Misses Nora, May and Annie O'Brien of Adams st., C. W.
Keefe of Jewett st., Mrs. Grace De-
Saule of Watertown st., ex councilman
W. F. Grace of Pearl st., William Segreve of Crescent sq., Miss Alice Kersting, Mrs. W. C. Fiske, Miss
Addie Fiske of Waltham and Patrick
Lee and Roland J. Wilson of Brighton.

The injured were taken into the adjoining residence of Elisha Chapin and the office of H. C. Daniels and attended by Drs. E. K. Utley, F. R.
Stubbs and Joseph Stanton. Most efficient work was rendered by Sgt.
Burke and Officers Farrell, Lucey,
McNeil and Desmond and the police ambulance. The wreck was speedily cleaned up by the Elevated Company
and within an hour cars were again
running regularly.

In the confusion which followed the collision, bundles and pocket books
carried by the passengers were hurled
in disorder about the car floors and on the street without, and in the police station there was a large array of personal property awaiting claimants. Mrs. W. C. Fiske of Waltham reported the loss of a pocket book containing a considerable sum of money, and many others reported losing bundles.

Motorman Walsh stated that his controller had not been working properly all the way out from Boston and that when he noticed the stopping of the car in front it refused to work and his brake was unable to hold the car
back with the slippery condition of the rails.

Death of Henry G. Cary.

Mr. Henry G. Cary, well known in musical circles in Boston and its vicinity, died at West Newton, Tuesday morning. Mr. Cary was born in Lempster, N. H. Dec. 4, 1829, the son of General William and Sophia (Hurd) Cary. He was the pioneer teacher of music in many of the suburban towns, including Malden, Medford and Brookline. For nearly twenty years he taught in the Boston public schools. Liberally educated, cultured, and his experience supplemented by extensive and frequent travel
abroad, he was exceptionally well qualified for his chosen work. For twenty-five years an active and influential member of the Apollo Club,
and for many years prominently identified with the Handel and Haydn
and Cecilia Societies, his musical ability was widely recognized and honored. He is survived by a widow.
Funeral services were held from the residence of Mr. J. Franklin Ryder, Grove street, Auburndale, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Seth C. Cary of Winchendon officiating. The Beethoven quartet of Malden sang and the interment was at Amesbury.

21st Anniversary

The Newtonville Woman's Guild
observed its 21st anniversary in the New Church parlors last Tuesday.
Besides being its freedom party it was 21 years ago that the first public meeting of the Guild was held. Mrs.
F. T. Benner, the president, and Mrs.
H. H. Carter, the chairman of the Committee in charge received from 1 to 1:30. A buffet luncheon followed served by the Social Committee, Mrs.
F. S. Sherman, chairman. Interesting five minute talks were given later
pertaining to Guild history as follows: Mrs. F. T. Benner on "The Ancestors;" Mrs. Mary R. Martin on
"Lectures and Entertainments;" Mrs. Martha B. Wallace on "The Charities;" Mrs. J. R. Prescott on
"The Personnel;" Mrs. Philip W.
Carter "The Committees;" Mrs. G.
W. Auryansen "The New Comers;"
Mrs. W. C. Boyden "The Patient
Listener;" Mrs. W. C. Richardson
"The Critic." An interesting statement made was that over $6000 had been given to worthy objects, the larger part to the Newton hospital.
During the afternoon a group of songs
were rendered by Miss Josephine Martin.

MR. T. B. FITZPATRICK HONORED.

Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, senior member of Brown, Durrell & Co.,
and one of New England's leading Catholic merchants, has had conferred upon him the 1905 Lactare medal.
Notre Dame's supreme distinction
annually conferred upon a conspicuous member of the Catholic laity of America.

The medal conferred upon Mr. Fitzpatrick is in recognition of a layman
exhibiting "zeal and sound judgment
in endeavoring to further the interests of religion, morality and education."

Thomas B. Fitzpatrick is one of Boston's most prominent Catholics and best known business men. His zeal for religion, his thorough knowledge of affairs, his administrative ability, his untiring energy, and the facilities afforded him by wealth and
position, enable him to achieve untold good for his fellow-men. His many years of late years have been identified with all the great Catholic philanthropic movements in Boston.

He was largely responsible for the establishment of the Working Girls' Home
on Union Park street, in charge of the Gray Nuns. He is a director and one of the chief supporters of the Working Boys' Home. He gave the site and most of the funds for the Boston cottage at the Catholic summer school, Plattsburg, N. Y. As president of the Boston Catholic Union, the most prominent Catholic social organization of the city, he was instrumental in providing a stately building for that society. He has long been one of the main props
of St. Mary's Infant Asylum. He contributed generously to the Catholic University, in Washington, D. C., and was the originator of the proposal to secure 100 annual contributors to that institution. He has been treasurer of the United Irish League since its establishment in America. His support of the Irish constitutional struggle for over 20 years is well known. In labor, time and money his contributions to that cause have been estimated at many thousands of dollars.

The particular esteem and universal recognition which the Lactare medal of 1905 enjoys among his fellow citizens may be gleaned from the fact that at the banquet on the occasion of Archbishop Williams' golden jubilee, attended by Cardinal Gibbons
and Archbishop Satolli, Mr. Fitzpatrick was chosen to deliver the address of the Catholic laity.

GOLF.

Plans for the coming season were discussed generally at the recent annual meeting of the Albemarle Golf Club at Newtonville, and it was the opinion of the members that the most satisfactory season in the club's history is in prospect. In order that the advantages of the delightful nine-hole course at Newtonville may be enjoyed by a greater number of golfers throughout the State, it was voted to establish an associate membership for players not resident in Newton, this giving them full playing privileges. To college golfers this offer will be found especially attractive. Furthermore, to be perfectly fair, those who feel tempted to take advantage of the offer but who have not played over the course, will be given an opportunity if they apply to one of the officers. During the winter the club has not been idle. A good sum was realized on an entertainment given three months ago in Newtonville. Preparations are under way for a comic opera, to be given April 11, 12 and 13, from which another good sum is expected. These officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Charles F. Avery; vice president, C. E. Duncan; secretary, Mr. Gindrat; treasurer, F. Lincoln Pierce; directors, W. E. Hickox, William M. Rogers, S. W. French, F. Olson, F. A. Wilcox, W. H. Wadleigh, C. A. Washburn and H. H. Cook.

At the Theatres

Coming Attractions

Keith's Theatre—Peter F. Daily, formerly one of the most popular members of Weber & Field's comedians, is to be the leading entertainer at Keith's, the week of April 10. He will be accompanied by eight lively singing and dancing soubrettes, and will present a burlesque called "The Police Inspector." In the surrounding vaudeville will be found Jeanette Melville and Evie Stetson, talented singing comedienne, and likewise the famous as the best dressed women on the variety stage; Mazuz and Mazette, eccentric acrobatic comedians and tumblers; Al Lawrence, a clever storyteller, and vocal, mimic; Great Scott, a European performer who executes wonderful feats on a non-supporting ladder, and Earce and Wilson musical comedians. D'Alma's trained monkeys and dogs will furnish agreeable entertainment for the juveniles. As usual, an entire new list of motion pictures will be shown in the biograph.

Tremont Theatre—The second week of Miss O'Neil's engagement at the Tremont will embrace a round of her most popular and successful plays. The repertoire will be as follows: Monday Evening and Wednesday afternoon "Magda," Tuesday evening, "Fires of St. John," Wednesday and Saturday evenings, "The Jewess," and Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday afternoon, "Camille." Each of the plays will be presented in the same careful and painstaking manner that have always characterized the Nance O'Neil productions. The plays for the third and final week of Miss O'Neil's season will be announced in due course.

Death of an Artist.

N. T. Leganger, who died Friday at his home in Newtonville at the age of 71 after a short illness, was well known as a portrait and landscape artist. He was born in Bergen, Norway, in 1834, and came to the United States a few years before the civil war. He had studied art before he came to this country and at once began to paint portraits in San Francisco, in which city he resided for a number of years. He also painted miniatures on ivory.

Like all other young men of the Golden Gate, he had the mining fever, which led him to interest himself in "claims" which never proved profitable.

After the war he visited London and Paris and traveled for several years on the continent. He returned to New York and later came to Boston, where he made his home of late years. He was very successful as a portrait painter and received commissions from some of the wealthy people of Boston and vicinity. His most successful picture, "The Three Heads" is owned by the family of the late Mr. Sanborn of the firm of Chase & Sanborn.

In his landscape work Mr. Leganger always succeeded in getting very beautiful atmospheric effects. He made his sky a fine part of the picture.

A wife and son survive him. His paintings have been accepted by the most exacting and critical body in the country, the New York Academy of Art, and his work always commanded high prices, with patrons among the wealthy families of New England.

The funeral was held from his late residence, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 Rev. Dr. H. J. Patrick officiating. At the request of Mrs. Leganger, an address was delivered by his neighbor and friend, Mr. L. L. Hamilton, which we will give in full next week. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Concert

Camp 31, Sons of Veterans of this city are making great preparations for their first concert to be given in Temple hall on the evening of April 17th. As one glances over the list of artists it becomes evident that the committee in charge have spared nothing to make it a rare treat every number being of the highest order. Heading the list is John Thomas whose reputation as the headliner among humorists and readers is well known. The services of Annie Webster Thomas, violinist, have also been secured. Those who have had the pleasure of listening to the John Thomas Concert know the ability of Mrs. Thomas to be seldom surpassed.

But the Camp is to be especially congratulated in securing "The Bowers" Harry A. Bowers, now a member of the Boston Symphony is well known as among the finest zylaphone players in the United States. His act of playing four distinct parts at once holding two mallets in each hand has we understand never been equalled by any other zylaphone artist in this country. His wife Ida Wiggins Bowers who will render at least one solo is a charming pianist and an accompanist to Mr. Bowers is perfection itself. She will also accompany Master Frank Gerlach soprano soloist of Trinity Church, Boston.

Taking it all in all it is seldom that one has an opportunity to listen to an aggregation more worthy of the title "All Star."

The Sons of Veterans of this city are working hard in deserving the support of the citizens. Let us hope that this their first entertainment will be a grand success.

Our bargains are made by marking down our own stock to a low price, not by purchasing inferior goods to make an attractive price.

It is a mistake to infer that we carry only high-priced fabrics. We have medium grades as well, and our prices are low because our expenses are proportioned over a volume of business exceeded by few in our specialty in the United States, and equaled by none in New England.

Death of Geo. W. Morse.

George W. Morse of Newtonville, senior partner of the law firm of Morse, Hickey & Kenny of Boston, died of pneumonia at Marseilles, France, Saturday, having reached that port early last week on the steamer Arabia from Bombay.

Mr. Morse was on his way home from a tour around the world. For some years he had suffered with a bronchial disease and it was hoped that this trip would be beneficial, but in recent letters he complained of a recurrence of his old trouble.

George W. Morse was born in Lodi, Athens County, Ohio, Aug. 24, 1845. His father was Peter Morse, born in Chester, N. H., and his mother was Mary E. Randall, born in Bedford, Mass., both of old New England ancestors.

He was one year in the preparatory department of Oberlin College, one year at Chester Academy in Chester, N. H. and was studying in Haverhill Mass., in May, 1861 when he enlisted, then not quite sixteen years of age, as a private soldier in the 22d Massachusetts Infantry. He served four years and three months, having re-enlisted upon the field, and came home

Africa. He was a descendant of Anthony Morse of Marlborough, Eng., in 1635, and was also the ancestor of Jedediah Morse, the American geographer, and Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the electric telegraph.

On the maternal side he descended from Col. Job Lane of Bedford, Mass., who came here from England in 1635; from Nathaniel Page, also of Bedford, who first settled in Roxbury in 1680; from the Browns, who were among the patriots of Lexington Green, and, through them, from Thomas Makepeace, who settled in Boston in 1637. Mr. Morse was a member of the Newton Club, Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States; Charles Ward post 62 of the Grand Army of the Republic; Sons of the Revolution; Boston Art Club; Boston Athletic Association.

In 1870 he married Miss Clara R. Boit of Newton. They had eight children, six of whom are living; two sons, Henry B. and Samuel F. B. Morse, and four daughters, Miss Harriet C. Morse, Mrs. James H. Hickey, Mrs. B. F. Larrabee, Jr., and Miss Genevieve Morse. Arrangements are being made to bring the body home for interment among his kindred at Bedford, Mass.

Whose death occurred at Marseilles, France, last Sunday.

at the age of 19 in command of one of its companies with rank of lieutenant. He was in every battle fought by the regiment, save during four months while a prisoner of war at Libby and Belle Isle. Mr. Morse was the youngest man of the company by three years and the only one upon its original rolls who was ever commissioned.

He then studied at Andover, Mass., for one year, at the end of that time entering Dartmouth College as a sophomore, and left before graduating to study law. The college has since conferred upon him the degrees of A. M. of S. B.

For a short time he was in the law office of Charles G. Stevens of Clinton, and subsequently studied in the office of Chandler, Shattuck & Thayer in Boston; he was admitted to the Suffolk bar in June, 1869. He later took a course at the Ecole de Droit and at the Sorbonne in Paris. He edited and published a newspaper, the Ashland Advertiser during the first year after leaving college; he began the practice of law in the office of George Bemis (celebrated in the Webster-Parkman case) and later opened an office in Ashland, where he was then living.

During his first ten years of practice he was of counsel in many important commercial matters, particularly in the old Massachusetts Central Railroad and in the failure of N. C. Munson, the great railroad contractor, and was one of the counsel in the Boston, Hartford & Erie litigation.

He then served two years as a representative from Newton in the legislature of Massachusetts.

Returning to practice he became counsel in the great leather failures of F. Shaw & Bros., and in the numerous others which followed that disaster in 1883, involving many millions of dollars, and also in the matters of the Toledo, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad Company.

Later he was one of the counsel for several years for the Thomson-Houston and General Electric companies, and while such had charge of the foreclosure and reorganizing of the railway systems of Knoxville, Tenn., Macon, Ga., and several other southern cities.

He organized the first street railway in Newton, and, following that, several others in Newton and elsewhere, including the Lexington and Boston Street Railway Company. He also organized the Newtonville Trust Company, the Newton Land and Improvement Company, Newton Real Estate Association and Newton Electric Light and Power Company. Mr. Morse was one of the syndicate which donated the Bulloughs Pond Park to the city of Newton.

He was a member of the board of trustees in the consolidation of the street railways west of Boston.

Mr. Morse had spent in all four years travelling in Europe, Asia and

Hunnewell Club

At the Hunnewell Club last week Thursday evening Mr. C. J. H. Woodbury, assistant engineer of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co gave a lecture illustrated with lantern slides showing the methods of telephone line building.

Mr. Woodbury gave a comprehensive idea of the different work involved in constructing a telephone line, the poles, wires, spans, conduits and cables.

His remarks regarding underground construction we give in full as it is a subject of considerable interest in this community.

The first experimenters upon underground systems attempted to make them water tight, and also insulators, such as a solid mass of asphalt concrete in which wires, frequently without insulation, were imbedded.

The lack of satisfactory results caused the Bell Telephone Company to begin the development of the work under Mr. Joseph P. Davis, Chief Engineer, on the principle of providing a conduit of substantial construction containing ducts in which the cables could be placed or withdrawn, and relying upon the conduit merely to provide a protection against injury.

A conduit was built in Boston in which the ducts consisted of three-inch iron casing pipes treated by the hot coal tar process to defend against rusting, which were imbedded in a concrete of eight parts of fine roofing pebbles to only one of cement, and this has remained in good order for twenty-two years.

The manholes were made of brick, covered on the outside with coal tar, and the foundations laid on plank covered with coal tar before the bricks were laid.

This construction was afterwards used in New York, but there was not a sufficient supply of iron casing pipe in the market to supply the demand, and as it was necessary that the work should proceed as rapidly as possible, other material for ducts were also used.

Logs were bored from end to end and then squared parallel to this core, and sockets and plugs to fit cut at alternate ends to bring the cores securely in line. The wood was treated by the creosoting process before the logs were laid.

Cement-lined sheet-iron pipe imbedded in concrete was also used in large quantities.

At a later date vitrified clay conduit was introduced, and has been extensively used.

Other materials and methods have been used, notably wood pulp tubes treated with indurating materials to render them impervious to water and a defence against decay.

Tunnels for underground cables have been dug through the soft limestone underlying the city of St. Paul, and one of the largest engineering works of the day is the extensive system of tunnels under the streets of Chicago, which has provision for cables as well as the transportation of material. In rare instances short tunnels are built, as under the canal and railroad at Trenton, N. J.

In addition to the usual difficulties which beset all constructions under highways, the size of the manholes or underground chambers which afford places for splicing cables or changing their direction, as well as leading them from the conduits to centres of distribution, where the individual pairs of wires branch to the service of patrons, the size of these manholes render other occupants under the streets serious obstructions.

When large underground work, such as subways, are built in cities, the changes in conduits as well as lines of pipes and sewers present difficulties of which it can only be said in the present available limits, that the changes were made.

Underground conduits have wrought a great change in the housing of the telephone central station plant, as the rigidity of an underground system requires that the distributing centres should be of equivalent permanency, and the telephone plant could not in such cases be subject to the mutations of hired property, but must own the buildings.

Therefore fireproof buildings have been constructed by telephone companies all over the country, until the Bell Telephone system owns the greatest number of fireproof buildings of any single interest in the country and its holdings of buildings and land in cities make it a vast reality enterprise.

If the underground conduits remove conductors from vicissitudes of decay of poles and exposure to storm and the hazards of foreign currents yet the underground conduits have their share of mishaps.

Breaks in water pipes or sewers disturb the foundations of these conduits rain storms flood them, illuminating gas percolates into them waiting to be ignited by a spark from a horse's shoe at some leak around a manhole cover, or it may be lighted by men going to work in a manhole with a lantern looking for trouble—and finding it. The superficially attractive proposition of joint conduit systems, particularly in connection with a scheme of municipal conduits for all electric wires, has been attended by serious occurrences.

Crosses among high tension conductors in cables occur from time to time, and if the wires of signalling systems were exposed in the narrow limits of a manhole, they would be disabled.

In one city where an inclusive conduit was laid by the municipality, the work was fortunately in good hands, and the manholes were built very large, with the cables of various classes placed on supports upon opposite sides of the manholes, and the cables containing high tension wires were enveloped with split underground tile conduit tied together.

The attempt of a municipality to force a Bell Telephone Company into an inclusive underground conduit system under circumstances which were considered to expose their cables to hazardous conditions, gave rise to litigation in which the contentions of the Telephone Company were fully sustained by the Supreme Court of that State.

A Joint Debate.

Interest is growing apace in the coming debate between the Newton High School boys and a team from Lincoln Memorial University which has been scheduled for the 22nd of May.

The subject for the debate is "Resolved: that Technical and Industrial Schools are of more value to the Country than the Classical Institutions." The Newton boys have the affirmative side of the question. Considering that nearly every one of our boys are fitting for a classical college, while the instruction at Lincoln Memorial University combines for the most part a common school education with training in mechanical arts, it will be seen that each side must rely upon abstract argument rather than conviction based upon experience and purpose in life for success. This affords even a greater scope for the play of reason.

hundred students, about equally divided between the sexes.

Gen. Howard, in giving the last years of a strenuous life to the development of this institution, feels that the work has fallen to him as a parting legacy from Lincoln, and as a grateful return to the mountaineers for their loyalty to the Union and their kindness to his troops in Civil War times.

Queare:—I was injured in the electric car collision on Park Street last Wednesday night. I was seated quietly in the front car which was run into by car 469. I was badly shaken up and slightly bruised. The worst effect was to my nervous system, which was badly unstrung, and I am unable to work. Can I sue the Elevated? A. L.

Answer:—In the old days in England when travelling was, on account of the highwaymen, a dangerous undertaking, the wise rule originated for the protection of travellers, that the carrier was bound to exercise the utmost care and diligence toward his passengers. At one time the Courts went so far as to hold that the carrier was liable even for the violence of a mob which injured the passenger, on the ground that the passenger should be protected from collusion between the carrier and the lawless elements. Although the carrier is no longer an insurer, still for the necessary protection of the public a railroad or street railway company is bound to exercise towards its passengers the utmost care which the circumstances permit. The negligence of its servants is the negligence of the company, and under the circumstances of this case the jury would in all probability regard the collision as resulting from the negligence of the starter running the rear car. In a recent case, however the judge sitting without a jury, found in favor of the company, where a rear end collision was caused by the moisture on the rails "notwithstanding all reasonable and proper efforts used by the motorman in charge of the rear car, in applying the brakes and reversing the power." And this finding was upheld by the Supreme Court, so here the contention of the railway company would probably be that the collision was purely accidental, and not the result of carelessness, and that is a question for the jury. If, however, the accident was not caused merely by the slippery condition of the rails but by some defect in the brake in the rear car, then there is no doubt that the company is liable.

You may bring suit against the company, and your damages will include actual injuries, nervous shock, doctors and hospital bills and loss of wages and earning capacity resulting from the accident.

MISS NANCE O'NEIL

The American Tragedienne, at the Tremont Theatre.

Keith's Theatre—Blind Tom comes forth from his retirement to help entertain the patrons of vaudeville, and will be the special feature of one of the strongest shows ever given at Keith's the week of April 17. The wonderful negro, pianist is to play three selections at each performance and will not be heard elsewhere in New England. The surrounding show includes Nora Bayes, a favorite singing comedienne; Callahan and Mack, in their delightful Irish character sketch, "The Old Neighborhood;" Mayme Remington and her pickaninies, singing the latest "coon" balades, and the Joscelyn trio, aerial acrobats. "Dida" the original illusion from Hammerstein's New York, will be given for the first time, and a funny burlesque on it presented by Bedini and Arthur, who are acquiring great fame as travesty artists. Wednesday Patriot's day the doors will be opened at 11 o'clock A. M.

Park Theatre—Owing to the sensational success of Robert Edson in "Strongheart" at the Park Theatre, the time for another company has been cancelled at that playhouse in order to give this popular star and play a longer engagement in Boston than the usual two weeks. The new play has two elements which cannot fail to appeal in the very keenest way to every theatregoer in America: namely, college life and football and that of the most vital question in the public mind today—the problem of the educated Indian. "Strongheart," while a serious play, is filled with laughs and fun so clean and wholesome that the tear that found its way out a moment before is dashed away by mirth and hearty laughter. tional in their nature and exaggerated
in fact that we deem it of sufficient importance to enter an emphatic protest against such journalism. Head lines of "scores injured" when as a matter of fact only five people were hurt, shows an undue tendency
towards exaggeration and many of the affecting incidents of the printed
story only existed in the vivid imagination of the reporter.

Only a week previous one Boston
paper published a story regarding some alleged prize fights which had been pulled off in Newton under the noses of our unsuspecting police. As a matter of fact, the prize fights were simple sparring matches before some local bowling teams, held under advice of competent counsel and were strictly within the law. The publication of such a story cast an implication upon our police department and many persons, who read the story will receive a prejudice against our police
which is wholly undeserved.

It is this false sentiment created
by sensational reports which is unfair, to say the least, for when enough of that kind of impression
has been created, an unreasonable demand comes from the populace for this, that or the other, and innocent
persons have to suffer for journalistic folly.

We have seldom had cause to differ
from the conclusions reached by our excellent board of aldermen, but in the action taken on the removal of car tracks from Homer street, we believe that the board has not taken
the course demanded by public convenience and necessity.

For the first time in this city, a local and illogical sentiment has obscured the public interests, and for the first time in the history of our city government, the act of a filibustering minority in a prior board has been approved by the aldermen. Fil-buster and private sentiment have won the fight over common sense and public convenience.

The Newton Automobile Club are certainly doing the public a service
as well as themselves in offering a reward for the conviction of persons
throwing broken glass in the streets.
Success to their efforts.

An Artist's Eulogy.

The following eulogy was delivered by Mr. L. L. Hamilton at the funeral of the late N. T. Leganger.

The hand and brain of genius has been stilled. That highest gift which mankind possesses, has passed away in this man who has left us. He was an artist as sensitive in his communion with Nature as the delicate flowers
which his brush could produce upon canvas, and as broad in his wide
vision of Nature as the mountains and sky on which lingered under his art the most glorious of colors and magnificence in detail.

His works in landscape copies from Nature, were inspired with a genius
as grand as that of any artist who has preceded him.

I have had the pleasure of his acquaintance for many years, and have often followed his work in art, and have been privileged to read the heart of this man. His whole soul was bound up in his art, and he could only work when inspired with the forms of wondrous beauty and magnificence which lay slumbering until aroused in his brain and soul. Those visions of transcendent color, of blending in detail and harmony
which only Nature in her exquisite groupings of form and color can create, were reproduced by this hand
and brain with a skill and entrancing
beauty, that should make us all stand
in awe and reverence before these sacred remains. His heart belonged to Nature; his soul was given to Art,
that most elevating of all the forces
which has uplifted man from the ages of barbarism to that of our highest civilization.

Wherever Art flourishes, mankind
reaches the highest development.
These men who work for mankind as artists are engaged in as holy and beneficial work for mankind as that of the minister or priest, for their calling and work leaves an impression on the soul which lasts through generations, and cultivates communities and Nations wherever their creations come under the vision of
man. Every Nation has appreciated
this fact, and the works of the great Masters in Art are preserved with scrupulous care in art museums to elevate by their influence the standards of culture.

This man Leganger's work as
that of a landscape artist, was, and is, a work which will live after him;
and many will strive to add to the number of their paintings from the hands of this wonderful artist, which now adorn the walls of many of our finest residences and collections of art
in the homes of culture and refinement of New England.

His work will be sought, and alas!
it will be found that they are limited
in number, because his soul was not attuned constantly to the inspiration
When he was inspired, he painted and copied from Nature her beautiful
visions in which his soul was enrap-
ped, and thus, he has left his work with Art attuned nearer
to her ideal, the perfect reproduction of Nature.

A Suicide.

The community was terribly shocked late Tuesday afternoon by the news that Mr. Clarence M. Merriam of Ridge avenue had committed suicide at Clark's Hotel, Boston, by shooting himself in the right temple.

Mr. Merriam registered at the hotel
Saturday and had been about the place apparently in the best of spirits,
until three friends called to see him
Tuesday afternoon.

The door of his room was locked,
and they could get no response to repeated knocks at the door. Then they went to the clerk, who in turn called Manager Green. He visited the room with a like result, and, calling the house carpenter, the door was forced.

Lying diagonally across the foot of the bed, and with one foot on the floor, was Merriam. His head and the pillow were covered with blood,
and on the floor lay a 32-caliber revolver. Merriam was dead, and to all appearances had been so several hours. Parolman Linton of station 4 was called, and Undertaker Jones took charge of the body, pending the action of Medical Examiner Draper.

Mr. Merriam had lived in Newton Centre for about six years. He was a native of Waterbury, Ct., and a graduate of Williams College. Previous to coming to Newton he had resided in the West. He belonged to the Newton Club, Squash Tennis Club and the Newton Centre Golf Club. Neither his family nor friends are able to advance any reason why he should have taken his life. He had not been suffering from any serious illness, and, as far as is known, he was making a success of his business.

His family consists of a widow and
two children.

that another sale will be held by the Women's Auxiliary Saturday April 15
at 2 p. m. Pies, cake, candy, bread,

The concert given by the Associa-

About 250 people were present. The assistance rendered by the Glee Club
was much appreciated. The boys sing well and deserved the applause they received. The orchestra made a fine showing for their first concert and the friends of the Association were glad to welcome this new musical organization.

DEATH OF MRS ALMA M. WINSLOW.

Mrs. Alma M. Winslow of Bath, Me., who died recently in Newton Highlands at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Aaron Cook, was formerly a resident of the Highlands, and is remembered by all her friends as a woman of remarkable strength of character—very self-contained and resolute.

Though left penniless in early married life, with two little children to support, she bravely assumed the responsibilities that pressed upon her. And throughout the years that followed she has maintained the same earnest spirit, though repeatedly afflicted by the loss of friends, and by unique and trying vicissitudes of experience.

Not strange is it that wherever she has made her home she has received and merited the esteem and love of all who came within the circle of her influence.

Rev. Geo. G. Phipps, who officiated at the funeral service, referred tenderly to the choice qualities and virtues of the soul that had illumined her life throughout.

Her pastor, the Rev. F. W. O'Brien of the Peoples Church, Bath, Me., was also present and gave warm testimony as to the appreciation in which she had been held in that city. He alluded touchingly to her ministrations to the sick and dying, and to her own Christian faith.

By the many who knew and loved her both at the Highlands and in Bath, Me, her memory will be affectionately cherished.

The burial was at the Newton Cemetery.

Not in the Same Boat

"We have in Chicago the worst street railroad system in the country."—Mayor-elect Edward F. Dunne. "More Chicago brag and swaggar we suspect. Practically every city claims to have the worst street railway system in the country and is fiercely intolerant when its pre-eminence is questioned."—New York World.

The World forgets about Boston. Here we have not given franchise privileges recklessly to irresponsible or unscrupulous parties who were sure to abuse them, as they have in Chicago. We have not to put up with jolting omnibuses and slow and filthy waterfront and cross-town horse cars, as they have to in New York. In a word, we believe we have the best street railroad system in this country or in any other.

And this is not a case of Boston complacency. It accords with the facts. Our system is not perfect, of course. Nothing in this world is. But it comes nearer being so probably than any other sizable undertaking which involves the interests of the city—Boston Traveler.

The increase in number and strength of Trust Companies in the United States is one of the most striking financial developments of recent years. Few of these Companies have grown more rapidly than the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston, which was organized in June, 1890, and now has deposits of upwards of $32,000,000. Many causes have contributed to bring about this growth; the Board of Directors includes representatives of many of the largest interests in New England; the management has been active and progressive; all depositors, whether large or small, have been treated with courtesy and consideration; the work undertaken by the various departments has been careful and thorough; the capital and surplus have been increased from time to time, until they are now larger than

ed especially for the purpose and devoted entirely to the use of the institution. Every effort is made to render it easy and pleasant for women to transact their business at this office. The ground floor of the building is occupied by the banking room. The pass-books and check-books used are small enough to fit in a woman's shopping bag. From the teller's windows clean bills and new silver is always issued. The two writing rooms on the second floor, comfortably furnished and supplied with magazines, stationery and telephone service, are reserved for the use of women depositors, and are in charge of an attendant, with whom parcels may be left during the day. Over half the depositors who use this office are women, a large proportion of whom live in towns surrounding Boston, and are attracted to keep their accounts at the Temple Place office because of the accommodations it affords them when they

those of any other Trust Company in New England.

The main offices of the Company are in the Ames Building. In 1902, in order to provide banking facilities in the Boston retail shopping district, and for the special accommodation of women, a four story, fire proof building was constructed at 52 Temple Place, midway between Washington and Tremont streets, and but a block from the Park Street subway station. This is, at the present time the only banking building in Boston construct-

come to Boston for shopping or for other reasons.

Those living in the suburbs find on difficulty in keeping their account with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston because of the satisfactory system of banking by mail which that institution has adopted. Deposits can be sent by mail in the form of money orders or checks. It is not necessary to send the pass-books with deposits, or to be balanced, for each month a statement is rendered by mail showing the condition of the account, and the cancelled checks are returned at the same time.

REV. JULIAN C. JAYNES, Who has been given a year's leave of absence by West Newton Unitarians.

The annual meeting of the First Unitarian Society was held on Monday night in the West Newton church. Mr. E. B. Haskell was chosen moderator and satisfactory reports were received from the church officers and committees.

Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, the pastor of the church for the last twenty years, was granted a leave of absence for one year, and will probably be away during the erection of the new church which the society contemplates building right away.

The matter of the new church will be considered at a meeting of the Society to be held Monday April 24th.

These officers were elected: Standing Committee, Mr. A. Stuart Pratt, Miss Fanny B. Allen, Mrs. Geo. Hutchinson, Mr. E. B. Haskell and Mr. Geo. A. Frost; Assessors, Mr. Pratt and Mr. Haskell; Treasurer and Collector, Benjamin F. Otis, Asst. Treasurer, Henry Whitmore, Clerk, John C. Brimblecom.

Alderman Palmer's Speech on Homer Street Tracks.

Alderman Palmer:—I feel as if I ought to apologize for speaking on the Homer Street tracks again for an epitaph was erected over this matter last year. The question we supposed would be settled last year, but it was not and we have had to go all over the matter again. The hearings have dwindled somewhat in my estimation, the first one held before the Franchise Committee was a most convincing one. The second one called forth some of the personal feeling that was being aroused as far as the opponents were concerned, and it was a case of "Deception No. 8." I want to say that there was a cowardly stab in the back of a man not present. We were all well acquainted with him as a member of the Board of 1904, and knew him to be an upright, honest person who served the city in a conscientious manner and who commanded our highest respect. I met Alderman Mellen a few days after our meeting and he referred to the statement made. He said "It is absolutely false, no one connected with the Elevated road ever spoke to me on this subject or any other matter." The reasons for the removal of the tracks from Homer Street are as strong today as they were last year when a majority of this Board believed they should come up. The people who believe they should come up believe as follows:—The tracks are not needed. The cars can be better accommodated on Commonwealth Avenue where they can be run on a reserved space and at greater speed. The distance between Homer and Centre Streets to the junction of Commonwealth Avenue and Walnut Street is shorter via Commonwealth Ave. than via Homer Street. The people living between Homer Street and Commonwealth Ave. have no right to have their objections considered when they have a line of modern equipment at their front door, we are not called upon to maintain another at their rear door. They will then have better car accommodations than ninety percent of the people in Newton. I am of course sorry for the school children who in stormy weather will have to walk several feet farther but if that is sufficient reason for it then we should maintain tracks in every lane and alley in the city for the accommodation of the children. Am I selfish in this matter? Possibly. If it was my own personal interest I should keep silent but I represent thousands of people living in Newton Centre and West Newton. Homer Street is a thoroughfare between these two places. The street itself is narrow, and if tracks were not there no franchise would be granted. When these tracks were laid in spite of opposition from the people on Homer Street at that time, it was because of the greatest good for the greatest number. We really feel at the present time that the greatest good for the greatest number demands their removal.

ELECTRIC POWER.

Every plumber, carpenter and hardware merchant ought to have a small electric motor, say one-half horse power.

You will be surprised at the kind and amount of work that can be done with a motor of this size, such as sharpening skates, scythes and all kinds of cutlery, polishing and grinding metals, splitting and cutting up stock for windows and door screens, etc.

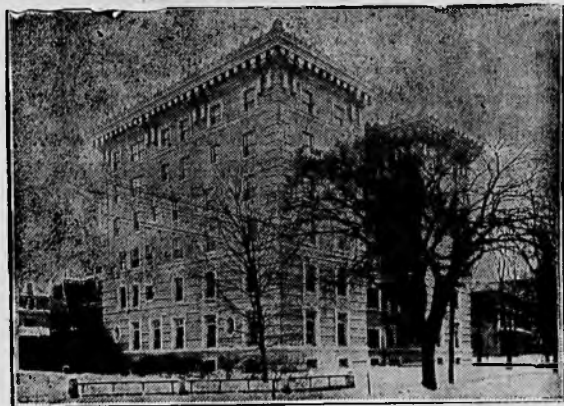

The motors are cheap and the cost of operation is very small. Let us help you in any matter pertaining to power.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Many Licenses Granted and Fees Increased.

Street Railway Transfers to be Renewed in Modified Form.

The regular meeting of the board of aldermen was held Monday evening, President Saltonstall calling to order at 7:45 P. M.

Present: Aldermen Bishop, Bosson, Bowen, Brown, Cabot, Carter, Doherty, Ellis, Ensign, Hunt, Palmer, Riley, Stone, Underwood, Webster, Weston and White.

HEARINGS.

A hearing was announced on the petition of the Boston and Worcester St. Railway Co for an extra track on Boylston street at the Brookline line. Hon. W. M. Butler appeared for the Company and stated that they desired a widening out of the present tracks at this point and a new track between the two. The matter covers about 600 feet and is intended to aid the company in moving its cars at its terminus. Many cars pass here on Saturdays and Sundays and it is difficult at present to keep the time schedule. The summer will bring more traffic and the new track will be a great accommodation to patrons of the road. The entire change is within the present reserved space. In answer to questions of the president, Mr. Butler said that the poles would have to be located on the side of the street instead of in the centre as at present. The company also desires two cross-overs to connect the new track with the present tracks.

There were no remonstrants and the hearing closed, the petition being referred to the Committee on Public Franchises etc.

There was no one present at the hearings on petitions of the N. E. Tel and Tel Co for two sets of attachments on Elm st and the hearings were closed and the petitions referred to the above named committee.

The acceptance of the N. E. Tel and Tel Company of conduit rights in Middlesex road and Hammond street were read and filed.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

On granting a license to J. Klegman, Alderman Webster said he had no personal objection to the petitioner but did not believe on principle in granting any new licenses of this kind. It has been an unwritten law that no new license should be granted. This party has been refused twice before and it was not for the best interests of the city to grant it.

Alderman Bishop. This man has been before the committee three times and had been given leave to withdraw because there were too many licenses. Only 18 licenses were recommended by the committee this year, and it had included this petitioner because the Chairman had visited his premises which were kept in good order, and he had previously had a license here six years ago, which had been given up when he removed from the city.

Alderman Cabot. I do not know the petitioner but the owner of the premises he occupies says his place is neat and clean.

Alderman Weston. Why single out this man after the Chairman and the Chief have made a personal examination. It is unfair to a worthy, honest and industrious man.

Alderman Webster. Simply because we should not increase the number of such licenses. When you grant it you virtually pledge yourself to continue to grant it in the future. Ten such dealers would be sufficient for this city and the wagons of these men are usually poor and broken down.

Alderman Palmer. The number will not be increased as two have been refused by the committee.

A motion to grant leave to withdraw was then defeated and the license granted.

Similar action was taken on the license of Hyman Shelman.

Alderman Hunt objected to granting a license to Naima Platten as he did not pay his bills.

Alderman Weston. That is hardly a sufficient reason and I dislike to take away even this little means of support from this man.

Alderman Brown. We would be better off if we had just half as many junk licenses. These men get their material outside the city and then bring it in here and make a nuisance with it.

The license was then granted by hand vote, 11 in favor to 6 against.

The same committee recommending leave to withdraw on these petitions was adopted:

Common Victuallers.

J. R. Robertson, Gray & Frost, F. F. Negroni, Esther Brickett, Innholder.

Ida M. Brown.

Street Musicians.

Filippo Vitti.

Junk.

Abram Shrier, Daniel Fitzgerald, David Bronfman.

Wagon.

Weston M. Hicks.

On motion of Alderman Webster the report of leave to withdraw on petition of J. H. Carpenter for a carriage license was tabled.

The recommendation of the same committee of leave to withdraw on petition for poles on Richardson st was adopted.

WARD LINES.

When the report leave to withdraw on petition for change of ward line between ward 5 and 6 was presented from the committee on Rules, Alderman Bowen moved to substitute an amended ordinance therefor.

Alderman Bowen. This district contains 16 voters, 14 of whom signed the petition for a change to ward 6 and but one objects. These people are really in Newton Centre they attend church there, the children go to school there and the train is taken there. It is simply a matter of convenience for them to vote there.

Alderman Bosson. A letter of protest was filed with the committee from this section. These people came into this territory knowing it was Ward 5 and they now ask you to legislate them out of it. They are in Newton Highlands, as they are nearer that station, and the Ward 5 polls. It is a mere matter of sentiment. We want the valuation of Ward 5 kept up. Ward 6 is much larger and this district will make a further difference of $312,000. The valuation is considered when matters of appropriations are up. This petition is merely a matter of silly sentimentalism.

Alderman Bowen. This is a matter to convenience to these people. The valuation is immaterial.

Alderman Bosson. The parties who object are personal friends of mine and they protest strongly. The Highlands Impt Society has spent considerable money in fixing up the shores of Crystal Lake, which this change would carry into ward 6.

Alderman Bishop. Five of the gentlemen who live there are personal friends of mine. They use the Newton Centre station. It is only a matter of sentiment but 14 out of 16 should be given some consideration. This district was originally part of ward 6 but was given to ward 5 some years ago. The shores of Crystal Lake are now in Ward 6.

Alderman Ensign. There must be some other reason, other than sentiment.

Alderman Bosson. I am told that a real estate man who resides there thinks his land will sell better if it was in Ward 6.

Alderman Webster. This matter was impartially considered by the committee who endeavored to find some reason to grant the petition. These ward lines were carefully established and should not be changed without good reasons.

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

The House is evolving some very interesting debates and good debaters during this session, while the Senate is rapidly establishing a record for supreme staidness in her tribune. The Upper Branch contains a large amount of good level-headedness but, with less than half a dozen exceptions, the forty senators cannot muster zeal enough to lift the lid on any measure or proposition. The House has a number of first-class advocates and some of them have been prominent in legislation during the past week. The value of a good debater has become evident in connection with several measures since this paper was last issued. Several election law matters have been discussed recently and Representative Luce has shown remarkable good judgment and many strong points in his conduct of these bills. Not for years has there been an opportunity afforded for a man to set aside a hobby as this election law agitation has furnished, and it must be said that Mr. Luce has, on the whole, taken a very wise course and is undoubtedly stronger today than he has been before since he entered the House.

The extraordinary spectacle of seeing Robert Luce and Martin Lomasney standing together on a bill last week was one of the sights in legislation. It was during the debate, that Lomasney touched the quick of Boston Republicans by saying to Webster, the Boston Republican, "They would need any headquarters if they keep on." At another point in his remarks Mr. Lomasney came pretty near striking a popular impression when he said: "I am not saying there are no saints in this world, but saints do not belong to politics. I believe that in no other body would any person be allowed to serve another member from his course without being brought before the bar of the House and punished." It would not be such a bad idea, politically speaking, if the Republicans of Boston should nominate Speaker Frothingham for mayor. There is little doubt but that there are voters enough in this city who would be glad to see a change, not only in the office but as well in the state of affairs at the City Hall, to produce the shift and Mr. Frothingham would certainly make a change. Louis A. Frothingham is undoubtedly the most available man for the Republicans of Boston to nominate for Mayor and he would fill the bill with ability, honesty, and consummate sagacity. What a regeneration! and what an outpouring of voters! Some of whom have not darkened voting booths for years, would follow the nomination of Mr. Frothingham.

A member of the legislature said the other day, when the letter of Eben Draper, regarding the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor was being discussed, "It looks as though Barkus was willin'." Now let Colonel Goetting, Mr. Plunkitt and the dark horse write an equally frank letter and the campaign may be said to be open, only the dark horse won't write such a letter, not even if "a large number of gentlemen whose wishes I respect" write the dark horse that he is essential to the success of the ticket.

There is no doubt but that Martin Lomasney established a claim to be considered an able debater in his first speech of the session recently delivered on the Charles River dam project (construe that last sentence as you like). Without discussing the defence of Mayor Collins, it is but just to give Mr. Lomasney credit for putting up an argument that might be well taken as a model in debate. Quick-witted, comprehensive, and telling in its effectiveness, the speech has had few equals in the House this season. It is a pity that Mr. Lomasney has not the physical ability to back up his recognized abilities in debate.

It is exceedingly proper that this legislature should group a number of matters for legislative action that might be designated as anti-peace measures. For instance there is the anti-dynamite bill; the anti-gypsy Moth bill; the anti-mobile bill; the anti-Sunday concert bill; the anti-cigarette bill; and the anti-Boston Home Rule bill.

Considerable notice was taken the other day of the fact that about a hundred and fifty newboys called upon Governor Douglas at the State House, yet there are many men in Boston upon whom fully a hundred and fifty newboys call every day and no notice is taken of the fact.

Hick's Almanac for 1905 can be obtained at the GRAPHIC Office for 25 cents a copy, and is free to old and new subscribers who pay their subscriptions in advance. Hick's almanac is one of the most remarkable productions of the new century. He predicted the earthquake last spring within 96 hours and his weather predictions are simply astounding in their accuracy.

Washington Letter.

The presidential candidacy to be settled in the Republican national convention three years from the coming summer is being discussed in Washington to a surprising extent, a result, perhaps, of the absence of other topics of more absorbing interest, but also promoted by the incipient presidential booms which have already made their appearance. Among the men who have avowed their aspirations, privately or publicly, are Vice President Fairbanks, Senator Foraker, Secretary Shaw and—the latest of the aspirants—though not avowed Postmaster General Cortelyou. Two other names are mentioned in this connection, those of Elihu Root, former Secretary of War, and William H. Taft, present Secretary of War. Of the field, Vice President Fairbanks is regarded by the public as the most likely candidate and there is no doubt that he is playing the game of politics with a master hand. On the other hand, there are many shrewd politicians who say that Mr. Fairbanks' boom is premature and that, like most premature things, it is likely to get nipped by frosts. A facile speaker and a suave conversationalist the Vice President makes many friends but few of the "thick and thin" variety, for the reason that he possesses too little magnetism to draw men to him in that way. His enemies tell ugly stories of Wall Street domination and an unholy alliance with J. P. Morgan and E. H. Harriman, successively, based no doubt on the fact that the vice President made his fortune as a railroad attorney and probably on little else. But aspiring candidates can, unfortunately, never escape unwarranted insinuations from those opposed to them.

Secretary Shaw is a good speaker, a "good fellow" and would doubtless have the confidence of the business men of the country. On the other hand, he is a man of little culture and of far narrower calibre, than for instance, President Roosevelt, while his recent decision granting the millers a drawback on imported Canadian wheat when mixed with domestic wheat and exported as flour has lowered the price of wheat by several cents and is claimed by westerners to have ruined the Secretary's vote getting ability among the wheat raisers of the great west. Senator Foraker promises to be a strong candidate. He has served his State creditably as Governor and in the Senate for eight years and has a host of friends. Judging by the predictions of those who ought to know, he is a candidate who will play an important part in the next Republican convention. Postmaster General Cortelyou's boom is too new to be accurately gauged as yet. It is based, of course, on his very successful conduct of the last national campaign and the fact that he has been the right hand of three presidents and knows the business. His boom is automatic he is not urging it. Had Secretary Root accepted the nomination for Governor of New York he would doubtless have been the Republican presidential candidate to succeed President Roosevelt. He would have carried his State last fall by as large a majority as did the President. He is a man of exceptional ability and fine character and he enjoys the confidence of the Republican leaders, including President Roosevelt, one of whose closest friends and most loyal supporters he is. All this was pointed out to Mr. Root when he was urged to accept the gubernatorial nomination but he insisted that he had no political ambitions and that he owed it to himself and his family to apply himself to the accumulation of a fortune. He went about this by accepting a $100,000 retaining fee as counsel of the Northern Securities Company and it is believed this fact would injure his prospects, even if he were willing to enter the race, which is by no means certain. It can be stated on the highest authority that Secretary Taft does not wish the nomination. He has one ambition in life and that is to become Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court and if that position becomes vacant during President Roosevelt's term Mr. Taft will achieve his ambition.

There is one man who is not a candidate and who has no intention of becoming one who is regarded by many of the ablest politicians in both parties as the most probable nominee. His name is Theodore Roosevelt. No one who knows the President questions the sincerity of his assertion that under no conditions would he accept the nomination for another term. On the other hand, it is pointed out that no man can refuse the insistence of a national convention and that President Roosevelt would be powerless to stem the tide, whatever might be his wishes, if it were once turned in his favor. Those who predict that President Roosevelt will succeed himself declare that the next national Republican convention will be the scene of tremendous factional activity, that finally it will become evident that no one of the candidates whose name has been considered can be nominated and that, eventually someone will name Roosevelt and that he will be nominated by acclamation.

Appropos of the possibility, or probability, of President Roosevelt's succeeding himself, attention is called to the ovations he is this week receiving in the South. He has already carried Missouri into the Republican column. How many more Southern States may he not be able to swing when 1908 rolls round? Of one thing there can be no doubt. If, in the estimation of the Republican leaders, Theodore Roosevelt can command more votes than any other candidate he will be nominated despite his wishes.

When the President reached Harrisburg on his way west he told some politicians and newspaper men that he had left Secretary Taft "sitting on the lid" in Washington, and those who were familiar with the Secretary's 300 pounds weight appreciated the joke. The Secretary is certainly doing the President's bidding and the result is that there is not enough news, aside from political gossip, to fill a newspaper column. "There are some good things on the fire but they are not done yet," is the Secretary's daily announcement to the crowd of desperate newspaper correspondents who call on him every afternoon, all of which is taken to indicate that there will be "plenty doing" when the President gets back next month.

D. A. R.

In West Newton, Mrs. Wallace D. Lovell entertained the members of Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., at her home, 40 Lenox street, on the afternoon of April 10. When Mrs. F. B. Bancroft and Mrs. Henry Whitmore were the assisting hostesses. The meeting was called to order by Miss Fanny Allen, regent of the chapter, and after business matters had received attention, Mrs. Smith of Northampton, a member of the Betty Allen Chapter of that place, read a paper entitled "Old Coaching Days" which was delightfully entertaining. Mrs. Chester A. Morton, accompanied by Mrs. Fuller, added to the pleasure of the afternoon by singing a group of charming songs. A social hour followed.

A NOVEL WEDDING GIFT.

Nothing can be more appropriate for a wedding gift than "Happenings in Our Home," a family Record Book published by the Samuel Ward Company, Stationers, of Boston. This book not only comprises the common records of the Guest Book, the Inventory Book and the Diary, but offers many suggestions and assigns several pages to records of the wedding, wedding anniversaries, vacations, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Years and holidays. Pages are also set apart for Genealogical Records, Events of Historical Interest and records of the children. A large portion of the two hundred pages is generously illustrated with suggestive headings or mottoes, indicating how the pages may be utilized. Such records are invaluable and the value increases very greatly every day from the time of the record, while the suggestive illustrations of the book aid greatly in writing up the history of the family. The bride delights to get at once the autographs of the guests at the wedding and enter a list of her wedding gifts and a record of the wedding journey. Those who have already passed middle life find the twelve pages assigned to days that have gone, are easily filled with recollections, while the balance of the book is still serviceable for the items suggested. Therefore, not only as a wedding gift but also to any family this book is an equally acceptable form of record. Several bindings are offered, from simple cloth, plainly but strongly bound, to fancy leathers with prices ranging from $2.50 to $5.00 each. As a book lasts a lifetime, this excellence of binding is a very important matter. A new illustrated price list has recently been issued, showing several illustrations from the pages of the book and giving a full description and price list.

Floral tributes were numerous at the funeral services held Sunday for Clarence M. Merriam. The services took place at the family home at 22 Ridge avenue, Newton Centre, and were conducted by a Connecticut clergyman who has been for many years a close friend of the family. The remains were sent to Chicago, whence they will be carried to Topeka, Kan., for burial.

NEWTON NURSES ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the Newton Nurses' Alumnae Association the following officers were elected for the year: President Miss Gertrude Mellick vice president, Miss Mary Oliver; secretary, Miss Janet Harrington; assistant secretary, Miss Sadie Manchester; treasurer, Miss McKiel.

In a brief item recently announcing that 77 alarms for fire had been received by the Fire Dept. in the short space of five days, lies a long story of hard and faithful work by the officers and men composing our fire fighting force. While it is true that the greater part of the large number of alarms were for trifling causes, yet it should be borne in mind that if neglected, even these small brush fires may do considerable damage. While the department is to be congratulated therefor on the work accomplished, the persons who through carelessness or wilfulness, were the cause of fire alarms should be made
to feel the full force of a public opinion which strongly condemns any act
whereby property is menaced, and needless work put upon the fire department.

The board of aldermen are not consistent. The private interests of the residents of the Honer street section are considered sufficient to cause the continuation of public inconvenience,
while the wishes of fourteen voters
out of sixteen in a matter of change
of ward lines, where there are absolutely no public interests, are emphatically refused.

The increase in certain license fees
is a step in the right direction and we trust will keep down the number of applicants for these privileges in the city. The number of junk men is now large and the higher fee ought
to prevent any increase.

Representatives Warren and Lowell
evidently do not voice the sentiment
of their constituents in their opposition to the direct nomination bill.
It is so rare that they vote on the wrong side that this action is noticeable.

What a sermon there is in the fact that Patriot's Day comes in Holy week.

G. A. R.

Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R. is busy arranging for the services of Memorial Day.

The meetings of the Post are made especially interesting to the comrades
and associate members by the reading of papers on various topics. At the meeting last Thursday evening Comrade John Ryan, Captain of the Newton Police, who was a member of Custer's command at the time of the massacre, gave a most interesting
talk on the terrible slaughter of Gen.
Custer and his brave followers. Captain Ryan is a pleasing speaker and held the attention of his audience for over an hour with his story of that fateful day.

Police Paragraphs.

The department is receiving considerable jollying the past week on account of an unsuccessful attempt to round up some suspected crap shooters on Sunday afternoon. The scene was on the river bank at the rear of the Shanahan estate on Crafts street, and it is said that about fifty men and boys were enjoying the game when
word was brought that the blue coats were to raid them. The warning was received about fifteen minutes before
the police arrived and when the squad
swooped down on the party, there
was no evidence of gaming in sight.
The innocence of the assemblage was very much in doubt however, as several of the younger members of the party made a bolt for the river when the officers arrived and escaped by wading to the other shore. Who gave the raid away is now the problem for the cops to determine.

A civil service examination for the force is announced for Monday May 1st.

Board of Aldermen.

The substitute ordinance was then rejected and the committee report accepted.

A report of the Select Committee on Records recommending $521 for purchase of 100 copies of printed records
of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850 was received and referred to Finance committee.

A recess was then taken and upon re-assembling, these reports from the Finance committee were received. Recommending $100 for purchase of records of vital statistics; and recommending $35 payment of land damages to M. A. Farrell, Green street.
A report from the same committee
that Matthew Duncan be granted $10
per month Soldiers Relief was accepted.

Alderman Bishop stated that a decision from the City Solicitor in regard to license for billiard pool and bowling alleys at private clubs had been received and that the Franchise committee would recommend that these licenses be granted. Brae Burn Country Club 1 pool table; Neighborhood Club 1 pool, 1 billiard table and 4 bowling alleys; Newton Boat Club,
1 pool table 2 alleys.
The report was accepted.

ORDERS ADOPTED.

Assigning hearings May 1 on taking land for sewer in Mague ave, Mague Place and Foster st., and granting N. and W. G. L. Company
attachments to poles of N. E. Tel and Tel Co on Walnut st.

ORDERS READ TWICE AND ADOPTED.

Granting $36,988 for city expenses
to May 15: authorizing Treasurer to borrow $50,000 on account grade crossings, south side: fixing salary of Overseer of Poor at $1700 and transferring $118.64 for that purpose: $35
land damages to M. A. Farrell on Green street.

An order for $100 for purchase of printed copies of vital statistics was presented.

Alderman Ensign. This is an important matter. After these books are printed the plate will be destroyed
and it will be impossible to get them
again. We should look to the future and buy at least 100 copies.

Alderman Brown. The records are not jeopardized by not buying 100
copies, as 5 books would preserve the records and this appropriation is enough to buy 20 copies.

A motion to recommit this order
was defeated and it was then adopted.
An order authorizing the discontinuance of the Newton Centre-Newton line of street cars at Newtonville
square and requiring free transfers
within limits of city was presented.

Alderman White. I regret that this order does not involve the entire
question of free transfers but it covers all that we can expect under the agreement.

Alderman Bishop. This does not give us all the transfers we desire.
We would like transfers at Commonwealth av and Walnut st, but it comes as near the agreement as we can expect and it may give better service
between Newtonville and Newton Centre. As against the inconvenience of changing we have the transfer to the west. Mr. Bishop then read a letter from the Mayor in regard to the subject.

Alderman Cabot. I don't understand this matter and would like it laid over.

Alderman Ensign. The only objection I can see will come from my district and the changing may be a great inconvenience in the winter months.

Alderman Webster. This matter
may be clear cut but I would like to see who is cut.

The order was then tabled.

An order relieving the Mayor from further responsibility under the order requesting him to protect the rights
of city under the free transfer agreement was then adopted.

And at 10:40 P. M. the board adjourned.

NO GLOSS CARRIAGE PAINT MADE

others are as heavy bodied because

UNITARIAN CLUB.

Nearly 300 members and guests of the Unitarian Club filled the parlors
of Channing Church last evening the occasion being the annual meeting and Ladies' night of the club. A reception was first held the receiving party consisting of President and Mrs. O. M. Fisher, Attorney General
Herbert Parker, Rev. and Mrs. Ad-bert L. Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. E.
A. Gordon. The business meeting was then held and was followed by a most able address from Attorney General Parker who told of some of the achievements of our country and answered the question whether the present generation had kept faith with their forefathers from an optimist's point of view. A social hour and refreshments closed the evening's program. Music was provided by the Channing Church quartette and by Mr. A. H. Handley.
The officers elected were: President,

Our bargains are made by marking down our own stock to a low price, not by purchasing inferior goods to make an attractive price.

It is a mistake to infer that we carry only high-priced fabrics. We have medium grades as well, and our prices are low because our expenses are proportioned over a volume of business exceeded by few in our specialty in the United States, and equaled by none in New England.

H. Chapin Sawin Dead.

As the result of a bicycle accident, Mr. H. Chapin Sawin, for thirty three years, master of the Bigelow grammar school, died this morning at 9:20 at the Newton Hospital.

It appears that Mr. Sawin was coasting on his bicycle down the north side of Commonwealth avenue, towards Washington street about 5:30 yesterday afternoon, when he was thrown violently to the ground when near the foot of the grade, striking upon his face. Assistance was immediately rendered by persons nearby, and nurses and physicians summoned from Dr. Fahie's sanitarium. He was attended by Dr. Downey until the police ambulance arrived and took him to the Newton hospital.

Mr. Sawin was born in Saugus, Mass., 62 years ago. He received his appointment as master of the Bigelow school in October 1871, and since that time has served the city to the complete satisfaction of everyone. His death will come as a shock to the thousands who have been under his instruction and who admired him both as a teacher and as a man.

Mr. Sawin is survived by a widow, and one son, Edward C. Sawin of Wollaston.

AN OLD RESIDENT.

She is survived by two children, an unmarried daughter and Water Commissioner J. Clifton Whitney.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock Rev. Albert Hammett officiating. The Mendelssohn quartet sang Pleyel's Hymn "Our Best Redeemer," "O Holy Saviour, Friend Unseen" and the interment was at Newton Cemetery.

residents have found it to their advantage to open an account with the Old Colony Trust Company, even though they continue to carry accounts in their local bank.

Outside of Boston checks on a Boston bank or Trust Company are more acceptable than checks on a local bank, and greater privacy naturally must attend transactions made through a large bank in a large city. Another advantage is that the Trust Company allows 2% interest on daily balances of $500 or more.

Every account, large or small, active or inactive, receives the most careful attention. Checks may be cashed at either the Ames building or the Temple Place office, and arrangements may be made, if desired, that both husband and wife may draw checks against the same account.

The Temple Place office, in the shopping district, is especially useful to women. A pamphlet illustrating and describing it will be mailed upon request.

Residence of Charles R. Batt, scene of Marshall-Batt Wedding.

MARSHALL-BATT.

The wedding of Miss Marion Marvell Batt, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Batt of Washington street to Mr. Loring Livingston Marshall, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Marshall of Willard street took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride on Hunnewell Hill, Rev. William J. Batt of Concord, officiated at the ceremony, which took place at 7:30 o'clock with only relatives and intimate friends present.

The bride was gowned in old ivory satin, fashioned after her grandmothers' wedding dress of seventy years ago, her only ornaments being a brooch, the gift of the groom and a gold necklace and comb, family heirlooms. She was attended by Miss Alice Tracy Davol, of Fall River, as maid of honor, gowned in pink chiffon cloth, of the style of 1830. Mr. Charles Paine Marshall, brother of the groom was the best man, and the ushers were Messrs Frank M.

Ferrin of Newton, Edward T. Marvell of Fall River, H. Stewart Bosson of Waban and Albert E. Gladwin of Boston.

A brilliant reception followed until 10 o'clock, the bridal couple being assisted in receiving their numerous friends by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Batt, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Marshall and the maid of honor.

The handsome residence of the bride's parents was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

HANSCOM-ANTHONY.

A pretty wedding took place at Christ church, Waltham, last Monday evening when Mr. Louis Albert Hanscom was united in marriage to Miss Bessie Graff Anthony of Newton. Rev. Franklin E. Webster, rector of the church, officiated. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Anthony, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. Frederick Lundberg, he boy choir, of which the groom is instructor, sang appropriate selections. Mr. and Mrs. Hanscom will make their home in Waltham.

Charged with the necessity of wiping out a debt of several hundred dollars, the Albemarle Golf Club will, on the evenings of May 11, 12, and 13, produce a new opera, "Quixote the Second," written by two directors of the club, F. A. Wilcox and William Hickox. For some years this club, which maintains one of the best nine hole courses in the state, has been under heavy expense, which was but partially met by the receipts from yearly dues. Outstanding notes held by several gentlemen for building the clubhouse were recently presented to the club, thereby reducing the general indebtedness to about $500. Of this amount, over $300 was paid by the club vaudeville show given last November.

After reviewing a number of plays, the club directors settled on "Quixote the Second" as the best adapted for the small confines of the hall in Newtonville, and Hubert W. Pierce, who made such a hit in the vaudeville show, was decided upon for the very important part of Sancho.

Arrangements have been made to give the opera for the joint benefit of the Masonic Association of Newton and the Albemarle Golf Club. A chorus of about 30 voices has been secured from Newton, Wellesley, Waltham and Watertown, and is under the directorship of Mr. W. B. Hambleton, a well known veteran in the organizing of opera troupes and the training of choruses. Such excellent voices as those of the Misses Mealand and Johnson and Dr. Naylor, which are included in the chorus, are too well known to need further elaboration. "Quixote the Second" promises to be a most pretentious affair, and if successful, marks the beginning of a regular winter feature of the Albemarle Club members.

The advanced sale of reserved seats for Quixote the Second, at Nichols' Drug Store, disposed of about one third of the entire reserved seat section for the three performances. It will be well for Newton people who wish to attend any one of these performances to get into line early.

The big gasoline motor car recently built in the Union Pacific shops at Omaha is to be sent to Portland, Or., to be operated on the Union Pacific in suburban service in direct competition with the interurban line. Since the secrecy which surrounded the construction of the car was torn aside and the car has been fully tested railroad men have been coming long distances to learn more about the car. It has done forty miles an hour, and is said to be able to sixty miles. It can be operated at far less expense than an electric car of like capacity; it requires no overhead construction, and is entirely independent in its operation. Railroad men are interested because they believe it solves the problem of competing with the trolley lines.

This trolley problem has been growing serious, even west of the Mississippi, for two or three years past. The Rock Island system in Iowa has been especially unfortunate. Trolley lines in the east and central parts of the State have paralleled a large part of its main-line mileage, practically destroying the local business, both freight and passenger. The Union Pacific management investigated the question of gasoline cars carefully, adopting the best plan and had a sample car built. It is declared a complete success.

In order to keep trolleys out of competition, the Union Pacific proposes to build these cars as fast as necessary, and wherever trolley competition threatens, to forestall it by establishing fast time, single car service with the gasoline cars, entirely independent of the through service. Light freight, express and passengers will be handled.

It is claimed that these gasoline cars can be operated more cheaply than the electric cars. The railroads have the advantage of being able to use the same roadbed for both the local and through service. It is believed by Western railroad men that the whole question of trolley competition is solved. More than this, the electric promoters are looking into the gasoline car because it is better for their purpose. A line between Omaha and Sioux City, now in course of construction, is to be equipped with this type of car; and a line from Sioux City north to Ireton is also planned to use them. Gasoline is regarded by many engineers as the future power in place of electricity for handling lighter traffic. The Great Northern and Burlington systems have taken special interest in the development of the Union Pacific's plans, and are understood to contemplate early invasion of the same field in order to keep out the competing trolleys—Boston Transcript.

FIRE.

The J. C. Melvin mansion on Highland street, West Newton, one of the finest residences in Newton, was damaged to the amount of $1000 Saturday evening by fire. The fire broke out in the third story and was discovered by Michael Gannon, the caretaker. As there were no fires in the house and it was tightly locked up, spontaneous combustion, it is supposed, caused the blaze.

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

Although the agitation for municipal ownership has no concrete basis in legislative circles in Massachusetts, the idea has individual support to a considerable degree, and, while it has not the strength that it has enjoyed in other years, there are some in the present body who are following this ignis-fatuus with blind and foolish anticipation that the day is coming when municipalities will hang out the shingle and relegate individual capacities and far-sightedness to the rear. The examples in this Commonwealth of municipal control are not so dazzling in their consummate brightness as to blind the naked eye, or put to confusion entirely the belief in the good old-fashioned way.

Among the most striking illustrations that are furnished the people of the Commonwealth may be mentioned the business end of the city of Boston. This city began to win notoriety early in its history and she has added to this notoriety, even if she has not gathered renown, in the recent years of her history. With little prospect that Boston is to be improved in her administrative equipment, she is seeking to set herself up in business and yearns to gather into her wobbling control the public service interests of the city. The general reader has little conception of the magnitude of these interests and perhaps no idea of the vast responsibilities surrounding their operations. In round numbers, the property included in the public service corporations of Boston amount in value to the enormous sum of $70,000,000. Now the Common Council of the City (and it was never more common than at present) has voted unanimously, without a single debate or public hearing, to take possession of these vast interests, pay for them, and run them on the City's account. The Board of Aldermen, with two exceptions, has accepted the action of the Council and the Mayor, without taking action, has allowed the proposition to become a law. Of course this action must be repeated next year in order to become effective, but so far as the administration of the City is concerned, that body has taken action and committed the citizens to municipal ownership.

The two instances where the City has endeavored to do business heretofore, are the running of the East Boston ferry, and a city printing plant. The former has run behind since it became a city institution to the tune of $1,500,000, and the printing plant, after being christened with much ceremony and the breaking of a bottle of Irish whiskey over its bow, has been sold for old junk with a loss that about covers the amount of money which the City invested in the venture. The action of the powers down in City Hall, which has been alluded to, was taken when the City was on the verge of bankruptcy, having exceeded the debt limit long ago, and the tax rate drawing blood every time that the wheel is turned. Of course, it should not be concluded for a moment that the action of the administration of Boston should be credited to the influence of W. R. Hearst's Boston American, but it is well enough to remember that wherever Hearst is printing a paper, municipal ownership is being agitated, and that wherever a certain "Professor" who is under the pay of a certain agitator for municipal ownership, is promulgating his theories, the irresponsible in citizenship is being impressed with the idea that it is "it."

Representative Taft of Worcester scooped the game in the session of last Friday and the bucket-shop bill, as passed by the Taft amendment, gave the State Street brokers a headache. These brokers came up the hill, clothed in all their glad clothes to witness the downfall of their hated rival, and when they went down they looked smaller than the old State House that stands at the head of their alley looks, by comparison with the modern structure on Beacon Hill. Representative Taft would have been sold under the hammer at the Stock Exchange the next day cheaper than would the body of Crispus Attacks, the negro who was murdered a hundred and thirty-five years ago, almost opposite the spot where the stock Exchange now stands. These laboring men from the industrial institution down on State Street saw the anti-bucket-shop bill reach engrossment, but only after Mr. Taft had added an amendment which broadens the original bill so that all margin sales not completed by actual purchase of stock, were declared illegal.

The trading on margin is not all confined to bucket shops, and the men who framed the original bill appreciated that fact very well indeed, and they aimed to draft it so that it would only gather in the genuine out and out bucket shop keeper. The Taft amendment makes every firm, no matter how high its standard, liable, and there was a well defined doubt whether in aiming to kill bucket shops, the State Street financiers had not cut a hole into the bottom of their own craft, which would make it rather risky to venture far from the dock.

The early adjournment hopefuls are jubilant as we go to press, and the prospective prorogation is set down for about May 10th. There are others who have seen the candle put out at the State House before, and they turn away with a far away look in their eyes that seems to say "Now, listen and hear the echo." Business has been dispatched with commendable alacrity within the past two weeks, but there are matters yet coming along that may retard progress very perceptibly, and the factor which always gets in its work with considerable effectiveness is the approaching warm weather, when the Solons feel the need of watching a ball game more than they do the legislative game at which they have been playing for so many weeks. If you have a calendar in your house, just look and see what day of the week May 19th falls on.

Edgar J. Bliss.

MISS MASON DEAD.

Miss Mary E. Mason, for fifteen years connected with the schools at Newton Centre and during the greater part of that period occupying the position of principal of the Rice School passed away on Thursday of last week. She had been in failing health for some time and owing to her physical condition had been granted a long leave of absence. Miss Mason was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mason and was a native of Medfield where she was born 58 years ago. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of her brother Mr. H. S. Mason in Medfield and the interment was in the local cemetery.

The reports of its Building and Finance committees were so encouraging that the First Unitarian Society of West Newton at a special meeting Monday night voted unanimously to proceed with the erection of a new church edifice. There was a large attendance and Mr. George H. Ellis was chosen moderator. Mr. E. B. Haskell for the joint committees presented a report recommending that a church be constructed on plans of Cram, Goodhue and Ferguson at an expense of $125,000. Congressman John W. Weeks, treasurer, reported that pledges had been received including the Easter offering of $5737. to an amount of nearly $107,000. Addresses were made by Mr. R. S. Gorham and Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Jaynes.

An Art committee to determine designs for memorial windows and other gifts was appointed consisting of Mrs. Chas. H. Ames, Mrs. Geo. A. Frost, Miss Marie Phelps and Messrs Lawrence Bond and Chas. P. Hall. Work on the new building, which is to be erected at the corner of Washington and Highland streets, West Newton is to be commenced as soon as contracts can be made.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

Questions on legal matters will be answered in this column and names of persons sending queries will be considered strictly confidential. Communications should be addressed to Arthur W. Blake-more, 60 State St., Boston.

Quere:—In the payment of the French Spoliation Claims, if one or more heirs of the original "sufferer" cannot be found, and it is not known whether they are living, or if so where, what is the law as to the length of time for which the executor shall hold their share, in the expectation that they will appear, and is it the law that at the end of that time he shall distribute said share equally among the other heirs? A sister of those heirs who disappeared is living and her residence is known. L. R.

Answer: The French spoliation claims arose from the depredations of French cruisers upon our commerce and from the judgments of French prize courts, and could have been enforced against France only by our government, either by diplomacy or by war. In the negotiations leading up to the treaty of September 3, 1800, 8 Stat. 178, these claims of individuals were presented by our commissioners to France, who in turn asserted claims as a nation against this government for failure to comply with treaty guarantees and action in contravention of treaty. The sufferers from the French spoliations have constantly contended that, by that treaty as finally agreed on and ratified, all claims for indemnity were mutually renounced, and that, therefore, an obligation to indemnify them rested upon our government.

March 31, 1891, Congress passed an act providing in effect for payment to the next of kin of the "sufferer." The next of kin are those who were next of kin at the date of the passage of the statute and are to be determined as if the original sufferer had died at that date. The unexplained absence of a person unheeded for seven years raises a presumption of death, hence on such absence the Probate Court may, after such notice as it may order, decree distribution to the descendants of the absent party or if there is no proof of issue then to the next of kin in accordance with our statute of distributions. In this case the sister, if there are no other brothers or sisters of the absentee and if his parents are dead and he has no living descendants, would take the whole of his share.

Quere:—My father made a will soon after he married my mother, who died shortly after I was born. He later married again and had a son and daughter by the second marriage. He has recently died and my step mother's lawyers tell her that the will is void. She says if it is valid she will waive its provisions. The will leaves certain property to "my children." Please tell me 1st: is the will valid; 2nd: if it is not, what shares do I and my half brother and sister take; 3rd: what is the effect of my step mother's waiver of the will? W. R. S.

Answer:—Under our law, marriage revokes any will made prior to it, and not in contemplation of it. In your case it is evident that the will was not made in contemplation of your father's second marriage, ever though he did say to "my children." The marriage therefore revoked the will. 2nd. Since your father died intestate and leaving children, your step mother will take one-third of the personal property and one-third of the real estate remaining after payment of debts and charges of settling the estate. The remaining two-thirds will be equally divided between you and your half brother and sister, since under our law kindred of the half blood inherit equally with those of the whole blood.

3rd. By waiving the provisions of the will had it been valid, your step mother would have taken the same portion of the estate of your father both real and personal, which she would take had your father died intestate, in other words the same share she takes now, except that if in such case her share should exceed $10,000 in value she would receive only the income of the balance for life.

Base Ball.

The Abundant base ball team has not been selected but there is good material to draw from, and there are many candidates for places. Among them are the following: S. F. Eaton, Goodrich, O'Donnell, Foster for catchers; Wilson, E. Trelawney, F. Hart for pitchers; Dow, Wallen, F. A. Eaton for 1st base; H. Trelawney, S. F. Eaton, Pinto for 2nd base; Tracy, White for 3rd base; Jacups, E. Trelawney for short stop. E. Wilson, Fanning, Lomis and E. Eaton for centre field; Estabrook, Wagner, Heron, Bishop, Turner, G. Trelawney, D. O'Donnell, Harding for left field.

Owing to Manager E. C. Eatons illness the schedule is only partly complete which is as follows: April 22, open, 29, South Framingham High at Framingham; May 6, open, 13 Waban School at Abundant; 19, Allen School at West Newton, 20 and 27th open, 31st, South Framingham H. S. at Abundant; June 3, Holbrook at Jamaica Plain, 10th and 17th open, 24th Brooks Club at Abundant. The team can play games on Monday and Thursday afternoons and Saturday morning and afternoons.

LETTER TO Mellen Bray, NEWTON CENTRE.

Dear Sir: Two years ago, Mr. Grant Smith, Erie, Pa. painted three frame houses, and the woodwork of a brick house.

The painter estimated $116.50 for the paint, lead-and-oil.

He bought Devco $97.40 and returned $11.60. Saved $31.10 on the paint.

Don't know the cost of the work. By the rule, the saving of labor would be from $60 to $90.

On all, from $90 to $120.

This is the tale, as it comes from Messrs W F Nick and Son, our agents there for 40 years.

Yours truly

and historic ocean mysteries—by P. T. McGrath opens up another field of human interest, and a description of "Hans, The Educated Horse of Berlin," by a man who has seen him perform, adds another to the long list of varied articles—each one absorbingly interesting. That's the great thing about McClure's anything in it is bound to be interesting. Even if the article is primarily instructive, important, timely or significant, it is above all, made "good reading." And its fiction is the real thing, too. This month it includes a great sea yarn by Percival Gibbon, the young English writer; a Charles Stuart York story, illustrated by Reginald Birch of Little Lord Fauntleroy fame; "Paul's Case," a brilliant story by Willa Cather whose new book "The Troll Garden" is causing so much comment; two love stories one of them by Will Payne and last but not least "Pardners" by Rex E. Beach which is the title story in Mr. Beach's new book to be published this month.

Literary Notes.

McClure's for May offers a great variety of good things. It's a far cry from Lincoln Steffens' story of how New Jersey came to be the haven of the corporations—and a mighty unpleasant story it is—to William James's delightful and, of course, distinguished appreciation of one of the truly great men of our time, Thomas Davidson. Then "Colonel Lumpkin," John McAuley Palmer's reformed and satirical captain of industry throws light on the street-railway problem. "Terrors of the Sea"—true tales of famous derelicts

Full-page portraits of Mayor Dunne of Chicago, Senator Carmack of Tennessee, Theodore P. Shonts, head of the Panama Canal Commission and President Castro of Venezuela are among the pictorial features of the National Magazine for May. Special articles by Charles Warren Stoddard, Poulney Bigelow, Kate Gaunett Wells, Mary Caroline Crawford, Walter M. Pratt and Frank Putnam; poems by Stanley Waterloo, Aloysius Coll, Robertus Love, Cora A. Matson Dolson and Virginia Norwood Watkins. stories by Anna McClure Sholl, Ethel Armes, Christobelle van Asmus Bunting, J. Gordon Smith and Edith Richmond Blanchard, with Joe Mitchell Chapple's "Affairs at Washington," Helen Arthurs "Beauties of the American Stage" and the unique Home Department, make the May National a very attractive number. Mr. Stoddard's theme is Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth the celebrated novelist, and his paper is a happy chapter of literary reminiscences. Dr. Bigelow, in his crisp style, tells the story of his visit to Gibraltar. Mr. Pratt illustrates with many snapshots his lively account of how he and another young college man saw Europe at a cost of $100 apiece. Miss Crawford writes about "America's Medal of Honor" and General Gillespie adds a chapter dealing with the recent change in the style of this famous trophy, which is the proudest possession of some twenty-five hundred brave Americans. Summer playground articles fill forty to fifty pages of the business section of the magazine, and the cover is an artistic depiction of the pleasure-seeking spirit of the season.

High School Notes

The girl's candy sale will be held in the drill hall on Wednesday, May 3rd.

The Class of 1905 Reception will be held in Masonic Hall, Newtonville, on Friday, May 5th.

The High School held its first golf tournament yesterday at the Newton Golf Club Links.

The baseball season is now under way and the regular team chosen. It now consists of the following men: Schofield, catcher; Cushing, pitcher; Sullivan, 1st base; Hobart, 2nd base; Ely, short stop; Paton, 3rd base; Porter Eaton, left field; Fearling, center field; Rowan, right field. Substitutes: Judkins, O'Kane, Kelley and Ryan.

Brothers Irish character comedians. Cissie Loftus, the talented mimic of other stage favorites, is underlined for the week of May 8.

Hollis Street Theatre—It has been decided to make the production of the dramatization of Dwight Tilton's "On Satan's Mount" at the Hollis Street Theatre on Monday May 29th, the engagement to be for two weeks only. Mr. George W. Sammis who offers this new play well describes it as "A play of twentieth century possibilities." Mr. Goodrich has kept rather close to the strong dramatic lines of the book and all those who have read it will readily appreciate the brilliant opportunities for striking dramatic effects. There is a large G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps interest in the approaching engagement, and there will be several special military nights, as the dramatist, Ira B. Goodrich, Jr., of this city, is prominent in military and G. A. R. circles. In one of the acts is a military scene of great magnitude.

Tremont Theatre—"Woodland" returned to the Tremont Theatre last Monday evening and was welcomed by a crowded and loyal house. The costuming of "Woodland" is particularly beautiful and elaborate. The musical comedy has in these days turned into a thing so gorgeous that each production appears a little more costly than the last, but in "Woodland" the limit of gorgeousness seems finally to have been reached. The old principals, most of whom remain, were accorded hearty receptions. These include those exceedingly clever comedians Harry Butler as the Blue Jay, Frank Doane as the Rooster, and the fine baritone singer Stanley H. Forde as Judge Owl. "Woodland" only has two more weeks this time at the Tremont, and this delicate and enchanting forest fantasy may count on a prosperous return.

Grand Opera House—"The Smart Set" is an aggregation of fifty colored musicians and dancers, and will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House next week, commencing Monday. The production will be one of the most unique presented by this theatre during the present season and will afford a week of hilarious enjoyment, "ragtime music" and kaleidoscopic dances. "The Smart Set" is fashioned after the conventional theatrical organization known as the
